Medical.

DR. J. C. YOUNG,

edical and Surgical

INSTITUTE.

CONSULTATION, IN ALL CASES, FREE.

CURES GUARANTEED, OR NO PAY REQUIRED.

IN ALL CASES WHERE CONFIDENCE IS REQUIRED THE UTMOST SECRESY MAINTAINED.

The above rules, established Dr. J. C. Young in 1850, d which have done so much secure the reputation of this stitute, are still adhered to, fording those in need of edical aid, the certainty of re and the utmost confidence. There is nothing of so great portance to the sick as to ow where to find a physi- an whose skill and humanity ve assurance of proper and ilrate treatment. The Doc r would respectfully call the tion of those of both sexes ho are suffering or in trouble the invariable success that s marked the career of the stitute in the seventeen years its existence.

It is unnecessary in this con tion to enumerate all the mplaints treated at the In itute, but the Doctor feels it duty to call especial atten on to that terrible scourge, SEMINAL WEAKNESS, is sapping with its in diousness the very life of its tims in the treatment and re of which the Institute has ned so enviable a reputa-

Religious Buzzing.

Rev. Henry Ward Beecher recently delivered a sermon before the Young Men's Christian Association of Brooklyn. In it he draws a contrast between true and misguided religious zeal, in the following caustic language:

It seems to me that this is a very fit exhortation to the Young Men's Christian Association of our land, "Go tarry until the Holy Ghost descends and brings you power from on high." There is a rash and wasteful expenditure of activity; there is such a thing as coming into the service of the Lord, or into the service of man in such an unprepared state, as that we squander rather than accumulate success. I desire to impress this thought upon you, that your power in all outward endeavor, in practical labor, will be in the ratio of your hidden life. That is, your power to plan, to achieve, to think, to feel, to influence the minds of men, depends upon the internal, the spiritual condition of your souls.

It is one of the characteristics of novels to represent busybodies in other men's matters, and it is also one of the strongest living criticisms, to point at men that are eternally fluttering, not as bees in the Lord's garden, gathering honey, but as flies in the Lord's house, annoying everybody. Theirs is an activity that seems scarcely less than impertinent. Ever full of buzzing, ever full of alacrity, men settle down upon your ear, and are brushed away, only to settle upon your face bringing you nothing. They wake you if you slumber, they pester you if you read, they perpetually torment you, and not the less because they are so insignificant. In the heat of summer, what is more nimble than a fly? When every other thing seems to droop under the heat, and to become leaden and lethargic, then they triumph in the swirl of an amazing nimbleness and activity.

I have seen men that had nearly the same sort of activity, who were great in little things; who were continually running hither and thither; who were full of new plans; full of new thoughts and projects; who run about hither and thither continually; and in the end are nothing but busybodies and blusterers. What do they do? What do they amount to? A thousand of them would not make a man. Straw thrice thrashed are they, but that have never had any wheat in them.

There is always something that might hit the right something. There is with them no deep communion with God; no realm of invisible truth; no hill over which they have ranged, and from which they came clothed with fresh power; no real religious sympathy; no depth of feeling. Their well is empty, and they have nothing to draw from it with, if it has any water in it. Restless are they, and lovers of excitement. A kind of dry inspiration, they sometimes have, a kind of financial conscience. Two often to this is joined a secret inspiration of pride, of vanity, of love of place, of love of name and influence. They shrink from real life, from wise adaptation of means to the ends to be gained.

Against all such activity as this (which is as misshapen as it is foolish and worthless) I warn you. You are not called upon to be active, merely for the sake of being active. Mere activity is not usefulness.

The peculiar tendency of our day is to external action. Such action has in it much of blessing, if to this be added a [illegible] preparation. If the soul be truly spiritualized then is this a most auspicious age in which we live.

HISTORICAL RELICS.—An exchange says:—England is selling off her old navy vessels for just what they will bring, and the price paid show that they are estimated by the public only as firewood and old metal. Since 1859 over one hundred and fifty of their vessels have been sold, there being among them several of the great historical ships of the English navy, the Cressy, Collingwood, Orion, Collossus, Majestic, Brunswick, and the San Pareil, all powerful men-of-war; and the Chesapeake, Euryalus, Imperse, Arrogont, Termagent and the Leander, frigates.

To this the Figaro, a new paper in San Francisco, aptly replies:

The writer appeals to consider it rather a disgrace to England that war vessels condemned by the Admiralty as utterly useless from old age should be "estimated by the public only as firewood and old metal." The fact of the matter is, however "historical" a ship may be, there are few patriotic Britons who would care about buying it as an ornament for a chimney-piece. As the greatest men must go to pieces in the Cæsars, Charlemagnes and Napoleons of the world must eventually become dust and ashes, so must historical ships be reduced to firewood and old metal.

"NIGGER" suffrage appears in a less disagreeable light to the "chivalry," of Georgia and Louisiana since the pleasing discovery of "Conservative" colored voters in those States. A Baton Rouge paper says:

A democratic colored ball was given on Saturday night and was crowded by the newly enfranchised. It was given in celebration of the Democratic triumph over the carpet baggers in East Baton Rouge, and will be followed up it is reported by a torch-light procession of colored Democrats, [not "niggers" understand] speaking by colored orators, and another ball. The colored Democrats, [what on earth has become of the "niggers,"] are loud in their triumph over the Radicals, and claim that they can now carry a majority of the registered black vote in the parish. The colored Democrats [no "nigger" need apply] are preparing for the Presidential election, at which time they will be ready to maintain the position of East Baton Rouge as the banner parish."

ONE OF US.—The Gold Hill News says Gen. Grant will be the first person who ever entered upon the duties of the Presidential office possessed of a personal knowledge of the wants and prospects of the Pacific Coast. He has often expressed a lively and grateful remembrance of his sojourn in this section. In a letter written by him some two years ago, he declared that his long absence had not conquered a feeling of attachment to this coast, and that his heart still yearned to return to scenes and associations which he had so much enjoyed while here. These facts are worthy of consideration and weight, for while the Pacific States are not disposed to ask undue favoritism, it is to our interest to have a President whose cordial friendship will insure our full and due meed of consideration. It would be difficult to select two public men upon whose friendship the Pacific Coast might so confidently rely as upon that of Grant and Colfax.

The Boston Traveler says "A friend of ours has a curious relic of Lord Cornwallis' camp equipage. It is a small pocket lantern made to burn wax candles in. It was a part of the spoil of his camp after his surrender at Yorktown, Va. His favorite horse found his way into the same neighborhood where his old lantern is still kept as a relic of the revolutionary struggle, but soon went the way of all horses, after being reduced to menial labor. This same old war horse, if turned loose, would march to the beat of a drum, with head and tail erect, as proud as a drum major."

A foreigner who had heard of the Yankee propensity for bragging, thought he could beat the natives at their own game. Seeing some very large watermelons on a market-woman's stand, he exclaimed: "What! don't you raise larger apples than those in America?" The quick-witted woman replied "Apples! anybody might know you were a foreigner—them's gooseberries."

Hari-Kari.

On the 2d of this month, at 1:15 P. M., in one of the Hiogo temples, Ikeda Ise, the author of the recent troubles, suffered death. He was the Secretary of Prince Bezen, and gave the order to fire on the foreigners. The combined powers demanded his head, and neither his own position nor the influence of his Prince could save him. But he was permitted to commit the hari kari, thus rescuing his property from confiscation and his name from dishonor among his countrymen. Up to the last moment his friends sought his pardon. Each of the six Legations sent a representative as witness, and to this number was added an interpreter. The closest mystery shrouded the whole affair, and as few witnesses as possible were permitted, in order to impress the Japanese that the execution was to satisfy the ends of justice and not to gratify a prurient curiosity. The chosen ones left the Legation during the evening and walked to Hiogo, where a guard of the Japanese soldiers met them and conducted them through several narrow streets to one of the large temples. One of the ante-rooms was placed at their disposal, and there they indulged in pipes and awaited the event.

A few minutes past 1 P. M. word came that all was ready. They arose and followed their conductor into the main temple. Here, in front of the large and elaborately finished altar, was spread a green cloth, and over this a smaller red covering. Near the centre stood a tray containing a number of small knives, corresponding to the sharp short sword of the Japanese, unsheathed. The seven Europeans sat down in silence on the matting, after the Japanese fashion, and the same number of native officials located themselves opposite. Above them glimmered several Japanese paper lanterns, shedding over the altar a dim and spectral light, which lost itself in the mysterious darkness beyond. With a slow, but firm and unfaltering step, the doomed man entered and approached the altar. He wore the white winged state dress indicative of high rank, the "karmi-shino." Turning toward the dimly outlined images of his gods, he bowed and muttered a prayer. Then gathering his feet beneath him, he sat down, resting on his knees, in the usual Japanese manner, beside the tray. It is customary for the individual performing the hari kari to complete the act by cutting his own throat. But this unhappy man, fearing that at the last moment his resolution might fail, named one near of kin to assume the duty of headsman. The executioner took his position behind him, seizing the long handle in both hands. He raised his sword and assumed the attitude of one about to strike. It was a tableau impressive and awful. The long razor edged blade reflected the lantern-light with horrid effect. The executioner's eyes were fired with fearful earnestness on the victim before him, watchingly eagerly every motion. The doomed man methodically prepares his dress and selects a sword, grasping it firmly in his right hand. Then summoning all his resolution, he plunges it into his side and completes a transverse incision. At this moment his head falls forward, and instantaneously the poised sword of the headsman flashes through the air, and the head falls with a dull sound upon the heavily matted floor.

The seven robed and sworded Japanese officials bow their heads to the ground, exclaiming, in a loud voice: "Are you satisfied?" And the seven Europeans bow their heads in return, and reply, through the interpreter, "We are satisfied!" They arise, and are immediately escorted away.

This is the famous hari-kari allowed to [illegible] of position as an alternative of disgrace. The decision saves their honor and their property, and the gash in the throat terminates their sufferings.

Standards and Banners.

The different kind of [illegible] fly in use were standards, banners, pennons, guidons, pencils and lance flags. A figure of a dragon was in use by the Saxons at the time of the Conquest, and it appears to have been retained [illegible] ensigns of war by the early Norman princes. The Bayeux tapestry has preserved for us some of the earliest authentic examples. They were, for the [illegible] part, small in size, and generally terminated in three points. With the Crusades, when heraldry began to assume a definite form, flags became subject to established rules. Carrying a standard or banner in the battle field was always considered a post of honor; and we frequently meet with instances of persons awarded with pensions for the valiant performance of that duty. The office of royal standard bearer was usually granted for life, with a very large salary. Up to 1340, the royal standard of England was charged with three passant gardant in pale, and in that year Edward III began to bear the arms of England and France quarterly. The brass of Sir Simon de Felbrigge K. G., presents an example of a royal banner. In the picture of the seige of Boulogne, Henry VIII, engraved by the Society of Antiquaries from the fresco originally at Cowdray House, Surrey, Sir Anthony Browne, great standard bearer of England, is conspicuous, waving in his hand the king's standard, charge in chief with the dragon of Cadwallader, and near to the extremities of each point with the cross of St. George. In the 12th and 13th centuries frequent mention is made of standards that were displayed from a species of car, which also conveyed them from place to place. The Battle of the Standard, in 1137, was so called from the car-standard, which was brought into the field by the English; it was formed of a long pole [illegible] on a car, having at its summit a silver pix, containing the Host, and beneath, three banners—those of St. Peter, St. John, of Beverley, and St. Wilford, of Ripon. At the battle of Lewes, in 1264, between Henry III. and his barons, "the King went forward to meet the enemy with unfurled banners, preceded by the royal ensign, which was called the dragon." When the revolted barons, with De Montford at their head, had reached a place scarcely two miles distant from the town of Lewes, Simon De Montford, with his friends, ascended an eminence and placed his car thereon, and displayed his standard, fastening it securely to the car." Banners were quadrangular like the present cavalry standards, which would be more correctly called banners. They were charged with the coat of arms of their owners, and not with any other device. Roll of Caerlavurock gives the blazon of banners of nearly 100 of the nobles and bannerets who were present at the siege with Edward I. in 1300.—The British Army.

THE DONNER TRAGEDY.—The Alta of June 23d, has the following:

Nearly all our readers are familiar with the story of the terrible suffering of the Donner family—the terrible death of the father, mother and one or more of their children, and the disposition which hunger compelled the party to make of a portion of their remains. The terrible scene was enacted near the lovely lake, set like a glorious gem in the bosom of the mountains, which now bears the family name. The Central Pacific Railroad winds down the steep acclivity of the Sierra, almost encircling the lake before reaching the valley of the Truckee, and the trains pass within sight of the scene of the tragedy. The children who survived the horrors and sufferings of that party have since grown to maturity, but the events which then occurred must ever remain vividly pictured on their memory. Among them was a girl, then four years of age, who is now a happy wife and the mother of several children, and resides in a thriving interior town but a short distance from San Francisco. On Friday last the first train from the eastern side of the mountains passed up to the summit of the Sierra and descended into the valley of the Sacramento, following for a part of the route which the Donner family followed in coming to California, and among the passengers was the girl alluded to and her interesting family of children. As the train wound up the eastern slope, she occupied a seat by the window on the side next the lake, and as it passed by the spot where the old "Donner Cabin" stood, we noticed her looking intently at it. What her thoughts and feelings must have been at such a time we can only imagine, and the reader can do that as well as ourselves; but there was something suggestive in the scene, and the coincidence and reminiscence were worthy of especial notice.

The terms of the seven Republican Senators voting "not guilty" on the eleventh article of impeachment expire as follows: Fessenden of Maine, 1871; Fowler of Tennessee 1871; Grimes of Iowa, 1871; Henderson of Missouri, 1869; Ross of Kansas, 1871; Trumbull of Illinois, 1873; Van Winkle of West Virginia, 1869.

Grant and the Israelites.

It appears necessary to again state the [illegible] of American Israelites on the anti-Grant [illegible]

Politicians who are thoroughly [illegible] to any other interest beside their own [illegible] are striving to embroil the Hebrews as a body in the approaching campaign, by dwelling on the wrong done to them by one of the candidates for the Presidency, in his general order [illegible] Jews as a class from the Department of the Tennessee." We do not suppose his [illegible] forgotten, and it is certainly probable that many Israelites will on this account vote against U[illegible] for the Presidency.

But no sensible Jews are taking part in the public meeting called at St. Louis to [illegible] They would only be tools of designing [illegible] who have no love for the Union, and who seek to create a sentiment in favor of principles [illegible] antagonistic to the true interests of all good citizens. If Hebrew members of the [illegible] party decline to support its candidate, [illegible] do so on their individual [illegible] pressure. They will not identify [illegible] Jews with any partisan [illegible] nothing in common with [illegible] synagogue is like each church, [illegible] unit on politics, or on a [illegible] tions. Mr. B[illegible] may be [illegible] but there are members of his [illegible] hear him preach on every subject [illegible] A minister of a Jewish cong[illegible] ed a political sermon, to the [illegible] of his brethren. EFFECT OF LOW FA[illegible]—There is so much competition on the rail[illegible] and New York that [illegible] are [illegible] to a mere nominal figure. The Newburyport Herald says:

Anybody that has a dollar to [illegible] will go to New York. It is the large [illegible] that absorb the smaller. We read [illegible] a party of ladies is making up in this town for an oyster supper in New York the last of this week, and another party [illegible] festival there, [illegible] ready plenty. It was amusing to see [illegible] old scanty skirts, and [illegible] and boots. The cost of a penny whistle would have turned back a hundred of them to their homes.

Greeley, who until quite recently [illegible] Chase for the Presidency, says:

Chase is one of the boldest and most unscrupulous of intriguers. And the Sun also, says of its late favorite: The Presidency has been his meat, his drink, his board, his lodging, the atmosphere which he has breathed for twenty-five years."

A Democratic applicant for office in old Connecticut presents himself thusly: "Too this [illegible] and [illegible] my native town. I will [illegible] at you in the state Assemblies, irrespectif of pollyties, religion or eddicashun." There must have [illegible] a grand stampede of school [illegible] that man's boyhood.

NATIONAL UNION NOMINATIONS.

For President:

U. S. GRANT,

Of Illinois

For Vice President:

SCHUYLER COLFAX,

Of Indiana.

For Presidential Electors:

O. JACOBS, of Jackson.
WILSON BOWLBY, of Washington.
A. B. MEACHAM, of Umatilla.

"Democratic" Idea of the Fourth of July

The Herald's Fourth of July article entitled, "The Day we Celebrate," is a performance worthy of a writer and of a party who hold that the Southern rebels in attempting to break up the Union and to found a Confederacy on the odious and accursed doctrine of human slavery, were merely endeavoring to carry out the principles of our immortal Declaration of Independence.

But the day now celebrated by this party with the zeal of pretended patriotism is the day they did not celebrate during the five years struggle for our national existence. In 1861 they kept aloof from these patriotic demonstrations. They were afraid somebody might be "irritated" by the profuse display of flags, by the thunder of cannon, and by the eloquence of patriotic voices declaring that the country should be preserved against the assaults of those who were fighting to overthrow it.

The Herald's article, after repeating the grievances of the colonists against Great Britain, exclaims: "Can any one recognize a single act in those specifications which Congress has not repeated upon the people of ten of these United States? Was it tyranny in the King and not tyranny in Congress? The people subjected to these acts of tyranny were rebels; so were our fathers." This is but another effort so frequently made by "Democrats" to put the Southern slaveholders' rebellion on the same grounds with the Revolution, and to justify it by the same arguments.

Now as "Democrats" entertain these views and lose no opportunity to repeat them, why are they not consistent in upholding them? Why do they not continue to denounce the late war upon the South as a crusade against the right of self-government as enunciated in the Declaration of 1776? Why do they not celebrate the anniversary of rebel or Confederate independence as well as the old anniversary? If the principles which the South fought for were the same principles which were contended for by the men of '76,—and every "Democrat" says they are the same,—why do not these "Democrats" evince their sincerity by doing public honor to the Confederates as well as to the men of the Revolution? According to "Democratic" principles the day on which Southern independence was declared is as sacred a day as the Fourth of July; why then not divide between the two days the honors of the great national anniversary? If we grant that "Democrats" are sincere in declaring their principles, we must believe that they would be willing to make this division of honors, and that they are [illegible] from it only because the movement would be injurious to their party.

The National platform of the Union Republican party "recognizes the great principles laid down in the immortal Declaration of Independence as the true foundation of democratic government; and hails with gladness every effort toward making these principles a living reality on every inch of American soil." The great fundamental idea of that Declaration is independence and happiness for man without regard to class or [illegible]. This idea is the grand vitalizing principle of modern civilization. The Southern Confederacy, being founded on human slavery as its "corner stone" was directly at variance with this principle. It was impossible for such a government to stand. The Declaration asserts that governments rest on the consent of the governed, and that when they become destructive of their true ends, it is the right of the people to alter, amend, or throw them off. This principle was also violated by the South in revolt. No man's rights had been [illegible] or put in jeopardy by the Government of the United States; not a single usurpation could be alleged as an excuse for the attempt to establish a new government. Every principle of the Declaration was therefore violated by the slaveholders' rebellion, and the attempt to show that that rebellion may be justified on the principles of '76 is worthy of those logical reasoners who hold that because all governments rest on the consent of the governed they therefore rest on the consent of ambitious factions, and can exist no longer than such factions are [illegible]. [illegible] the Herald's Confederate Independence article, though eloquent over the wrongs falsely alleged to have been inflicted on the "ten States" by Congress, has not a word of censure, or the least intimation of disapproval, of the action of those engaged in the late bloody attempt to destroy the Republic. On this Fourth of July those who preserved the Republic are condemned, and those whose wicked ambition led them to undertake its overthrow are spoken of as an injured people, who have done no wrong, and who have been outraged in the most revolting manner by "Radical tyranny"—a "tyranny" which first beat down their traitorous arms and then prevented defeated rebels from getting supreme control of the country. As the editor of the Herald denounced the war for the Union as "unconstitutional" and "tyrannical," and asserted over and over again while the struggle was going on that the Southern rebels were but attempting to carry out the principles of the Declaration of Independence, it is quite natural that he should now seize the opportunity of the national anniversary to condemn those who have saved the country and plead for those who tried to destroy it. This is undoubtedly the true "Democratic" idea of the citizen's duty on the Fourth of July.

The Sacramento Union, a journal which is rarely mistaken in its forecastings on California politics says: "With a ticket representing the honest Union sentiment of the people, having the confidence of the whole party, and a reasonable amount of ability to explain its principles, we have the utmost confidence the State can be carried for Grant by from five to eight thousand majority."

Berish says we "expend a great deal of ink and paper in trying to impress our readers with the idea that editors are only mercenary tools to do any dirty work which their employers may demand of them." Nothing of the kind. We have merely shown that Berish is such a tool, and that he is obeying the commands of the man who keeps him and the county paupers. Berish does a great deal of "dirty work" for poorhouse fare.

POLITICAL ITEMS.

The expenses of the Democratic Legislature of Ohio, this year, are $115,000; those of the Republican Legislature, last year, were $60,000.

It is stated that Vallandigham will start a daily newspaper in Cincinnati, as the exponent of a pure Democratic sentiment, according to the views of the "martyrs." It is to be called the Herald.

The New York Sun says "it is said" that Mr. Seward will support Grant and Colfax this fall, no matter whether the Democratic candidates should be Chase, Pendleton, Seymour, Nelson, Hancock, or even Andy Johnson himself.

The National Intelligencer takes the New York World to task severely for its articles admitting that the radical reconstruction of the Southern States means something, and its declaration that Mr. Pendleton, if nominated, will need negro votes.

Of the eighteen Generals and Colonels who signed a call published in the National Intelligencer of the 5th June, for a Conservative Soldiers' Convention, but four were entitled to claim the titular rank. The rest were either of the rank of Colonel when they left the service early in the war, or had been discharged from the army for the public good, or had not been in the service at all.

General Grant has frankly expressed his conviction that no man should be eligible to the Presidency for more than a single term, and that an amendment of the Constitution embodying that limitation is necessary to the preservation of our Democratic institutions. No doubt this is a sound opinion. As the matter now stands the President is hardly inaugurated before he begins to intrigue for his re-election. The sooner this is changed, the better.

The Alexandria (Va.) State Journal says that every voter in the broad land, who is not a lunatic on the State rights question, or still bedeviled by the "lost cause" will read in General Grant's letter of acceptance a surcease of the bitterness, the unrest and trouble with which the President has afflicted the South; and it thinks that, if wise, they will vote for the magnanimous victor of Appomatox Court House, and trust him on his promise of assured peace and prosperity.

The Pennsylvania State Guard says soldiers will, of course, observe that Republican conventions are again making good the professions of the Republican party for the benefit of surviving soldiers who defended the Union during the late war. In every county in the State where a Republican majority is certain, where nominating conventions have been held, a fair share of offices are allotted to soldiers. Such is the truthful and practical carrying out of Republican regard for heroes.

The Copperhead press of Ohio savagely denounce the recent decision of the Supreme Court of that State, against the constitutionality of the suffrage law recently passed by the Democratic Legislature of that State. But Judges of all parties in that State seem to be of one mind about the law. A well known and ultra Democratic Judge, Wright, of the Perry County Common Pleas, has reiterated the same decision. Of course the law will be entirely ignored at the next election.

Vallandigham lays it down as inevitable that "any nomination or platform at New York which tacitly or openly concedes that the Democratic party during the war made itself odious by complicity or sympathy with 'treason,' and therefore must be openly killed off or quietly suppressed, or which is tacitly or expressly committed to the proscription of the men in the North and West who refused active support to the war," would be followed by a convention of bolters who would proclaim the ancient and rugged principles of Democracy.

The Road to Triumph.

Our national candidates are now in the field; and telegrams from all parts of the country announce the most unbounded enthusiasm among the people over the nominations. The names of Grant and Colfax exactly strike the key-note of the popular sentiment, and are at once a pledge and guarantee of unity and cordial co-operation on the part of those who belong to the great Republican Union party. With such standard bearers upon a platform which cannot fail to commend itself to the popular heart and conscience for the principles it embodies on all the national questions of the day, we enter upon the contest under the most promising auspices. But we must not alone trust to omens. The Chicago Republican, on this subject, well says:

Republicans must not fall into the mistake of supposing that their triumph is so completely a foregone conclusion, that it will win itself. A hard struggle is before us. We have to vanquish adversaries who polled a vote over 1,800,000 strong in 1867, when the life of the nation was in great peril; and when a stubborn foe in arms was contesting inch by inch the authority of the Union. This fact should not be forgotten. Rather it should impart new resolution to every loyal mind. It should nerve all to the highest exertions. Let us, as a party, set out with the determination to make our majority over the opponents of national faith-keeping, just reconstruction and progressive ideas, so overwhelming and complete, that the Democracy will become compelled to bury their dead issues where the hand of resurrection cannot reach them. We can accomplish this glorious achievement if they will only will it with sufficient earnestness and sincerity. We have every encouragement to make this resolve. We have reason to be proud of our platform. It is fully up with all the liberalizing tendencies of the times. Then our candidates are nature's noblemen. To exalted patriotism they add unsullied purity of character, and to that the unbounded regard of their countrymen. In these respects, we have nothing to fear by contrast with anything the opposition can place in the field. Our only danger is that we may feel too sure of our victory, and may not employ our whole energies to make it all it should be. For six weeks we shall not have anything but skirmishing. Not until the close of that period shall we know certainly what leaders are to head the onset of the enemy. This interregnum should not be spent in idleness. All the machinery of success should be organized. Every county should at once proceed to form its clubs. The topography of the approaching battle-field should be marshaled in readiness for actual service. Then when the real shock of the struggle shall come we shall be fully prepared for its contingencies and fluctuations.

CANNOT FORGIVE.—The Alta, referring to the Examiner's abuse of Grant, says: "It would probably be too much to expect that the Democratic organs should give up abusing General Grant. The heaviest blows the Democracy ever received were delivered by that warrior. The way in which he arrested Constitutional Democrats at Vicksburg and the Appomattox will never be forgotten."

"When a superior race like ours," said a representative of the Nasby Democracy of Kentucky to a Bureau officer, "comes in contact with an inferior race like the negroes, what do you think will be the result?" "Mulattoes," was the ready reply of the Bureau officer, who had evidently been a close observer of Southern "society" during his stay in that section.

"Radicalism," says a Copperhead paper, "is not peace." By "Radicalism" the writer means the rule of the loyal people of the nation. Of course he is of opinion that the rule of rebels would be "peace." Give 'em their way, say the Copperheads, and there'll be no trouble.

The editor of the Lafayette Courier says: "We shall be compelled to call on Dr. Timothy to bray for us." The first instance, says the Unionist, that has ever come under our observation of a donkey without brains enough to do his own braying.

The Marysville (Cal.) Appeal thus tells the story of the Oregon election: "The figures show an importation from Idaho, Montana and Missouri of 2,130 rebels."

DISPATCHES TO THE OREGONIAN.]

OUR SAN FRANCISCO DISPATCH.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 5.—The celebration yesterday passed off in good style. The procession was very long and occupied an hour and a quarter in passing the corner of Montgomery and Washington street. The streets, as usual upon such occasions, were crowded with dense masses of people, all of whom appeared to enjoy themselves highly. The exercises at Platt's Hall passed off very successfully, with exception of some dissatisfaction, which was caused by Mr. Winans, orator of the day, expressing his own personal political views in regard to national affairs.

The display of fire works in the evening was witnessed by an immense number of people. The fire works were excellent, but the effect was in a great measure destroyed by a heavy fog which hung over the city during the evening. No serious accidents in the city have been reported.

A terrible accident occurred at the Oakland wharf last evening. About 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon a large number of people were going on board the steamer El Capitan, when the chains by which the moveable wharf is hung, gave way and about one hundred persons were precipitated into the water. They were rescued as rapidly as possible, but two men, one woman and a child are known to have been drowned.

A splendid regatta took place yesterday. Twenty-three boats entered for the prize. The Randall won the prize for the first class sloops, and the Allen Stoffel won the prize for round bottomed schooners. The Champion took the prize for schooners and scows.

No arrivals. No telegraphic news has yet been received from the Democratic Convention.

FROM THE NORTH.

VICTORIA, July 1.—Considerable excitement exists in this city in consequence of a serious disturbance which took place at Burrard Inlet yesterday. It appears that the Sheriff with a posse of special policemen was instructed to proceed to Burrard Inlet and seize the ship Moneta on account of a salvage claim. On their arrival there Captain Turpin, of the Moneta, contended that the jurisdiction of Justice Needham who issued the writ, did not extend, to that district, and that if they persisted in boarding her he would be obliged to resist them. There were a number of men on board the ship fully armed at the time and ready to obey the captain's orders regardless of consequences. After a short parley the Sheriff determined to gain possession of the ship at any cost, and commanded his men to follow him. After a desperate struggle which lasted but a short time the Sheriff succeeded in gaining his object. No fire arms were discharged, but handspikes and other weapons were freely used. Officer McMillan, of the police force, was stabbed but not seriously. The Sheriff was also slightly hurt. The vessel has been towed to Esquimalt and the Captain and crew have been arrested by the naval authorities.

The U. S. ship Suwanee, from San Francisco, arrived this morning. The ship Bailey, from San Francisco has not yet arrived.

All Agreed.

In New York there is a considerable body of men known as "Conservative" Republicans, of whom Mr. Weed, of the Commercial Advertiser, and Mr. Raymond, of the Times, are the principal exponents. We will not undertake to estimate their numbers or influence, but will say, however, that, in a hard fight, they are not to be despised. Whatever is the influence of this class, it is certain that all of it is to be given for Grant and Colfax—not unwillingly or qualifiedly, but promptly, enthusiastically. The spirit of the Commercial Advertiser can be inferred from the following extracts from that paper:

"The feeling which pervades all circles since the Chicago nominations is a happy augury of victory. On 'Change, among merchants, at the Clubs, in the drawing room, on the cars, ferry boats, everywhere, nothing but the warmest expressions of approval with the ticket could be heard yesterday. Wherever Republicans met they enthusiastically shook hands over the nominations, and expressed that under such leaders success was certain. From the encomiums which were showered upon him on all hands yesterday, a foreigner might have inferred that Schuyler Colfax was 'the next best friend' to every man, woman and child in the United States, and that in designating him for the second place on the ticket, the Convention had consulted their individual preferences. As for General Grant, the position which he occupies in the affections of his countrymen has long been understood by all foreigners.

"The Chicago proceedings have suddenly dispelled these clouds, however, and buoyancy and hope have driven away doubt and depression. As an individual forgets in one success failure in another, and rises above despondency, so have our community suddenly forgot the sadness of the past in the joy of the present, and in place of fear of defeat, returning confidence in victory is everywhere manifest.

"What is true of New York is true of the whole country. Our exchanges tell us of the satisfaction and buoyancy which prevail near and remote, while salvos of artillery bespeak the general joy. Republicans feel victory in the atmosphere, and press on to the fight with the elan and confidence which inspire success.

"Our political antagonists, on the other hand, realize and confess that a strong ticket has been placed in nomination, and they are wofully disappointed that the Convention has presented to them so few vulnerable points. Glorying in the to them certain prospect of division and discord at Chicago, they now stagger under the depression lifted from Republican shoulders, and begin to understand that their chances of success are reduced to a nullity."

OUR FUTURE PROSPERITY AFTER GRANT'S ELECTION.—The National Gazette (Berlin) calls attention to the fact that, whatever the result of the impeachment of President Johnson, the United States may, from the 4th of March, 1869, look forward to a career of unparalled prosperity and greatness. It says:

One thing is certain, so far as the immediate political future of the United States is concerned, General Grant will be the next President of the Republic. The strife between the various branches of the Government will then be at an end. His Cabinet will consist of the most eminent men of the majority—men whom the people trust and revere, and whom both houses of Congress will enthusiastically support in all their measures. The harmony now sadly wanting between the executive and legislative departments having been restored, the political importance of the Supreme Court, which has now given rise to so many hopes and fears, will dwindle down to nothing, and people will care very little about the political opinions of the Judges composing that tribunal. The reconstruction of the Southern States, if not accomplished before that time, will proceed as rapidly as it, until now, has dragged along slowly; and with political harmony in the councils of the nation will come material prosperity. A new impetus will be given to industry, commerce and agriculture, and, with elements of success such as no other country in the world has in its grasp, the people of the United States are sure to make strides forward which, accustomed as we are to wonderful performances in that respect in America, will distance and eclipse all that has been achieved up to this time.

RAILWAY POSTOFFICE SERVICE.—The mail service by railway postal cars is being rapidly extended and improved. On the 1st of July next it is proposed to establish postal car service on the Hudson River Railroad, connecting at Albany with the New York Central Road direct to Buffalo, leaving New York and Boston every week day, night and morning. An additional line between New York and Boston is to be at the same time established, to run via Springfield, and a line from Springfield to Albany, connecting with those from New York. The service will also be continued on the Shore Line from Boston, connecting with the service via Springfield, at New Haven. Arrangements are being made for two daily lines between Boston and Portland, and one between Portland and Bangor, and the establishment of this service will complete a continuous Railway Postoffice line from Bangor to Washington, and also west to Toledo, Ohio. When the service between Toledo and Chicago is established, the line will be continuous from Bangor to Omaha.—U. S. Mail.

A woman in Galena, Illinois, left her baby for a short time in charge of a young girl, but the youngster got fretful, and to please it, the girl tied it in a sheet let it out of a window, three stories from the ground, and when discovered, was amusing it by raising it up and down in the sheet, which she held with her hands inside. The performance was discovered by some of the neighbors who were not long in putting a stop to it.

Copperhead practice on the Fourth of July,—quoting texts from the Declaration of Independence, and preaching a sermon in extenuation of the late rebellion.

THE BEST CURE FOR RHEUMATISM is to wear good Undershirts, good Cassimere Suits, and should it be warm, change your heavy clothes for such as suit the weather. Follow that prescription, and you will never suffer with rheumatism, but be certain to buy your clothes of KOHN & FISHEL, for their's are known to cure either cold or heat, and to suit both rich and poor.

"While the Lamp holds out to Burn"

There is a chance for a restoration of health. If, therefore, the constitution has been weakened by disease or excess—the nerves shattered—the stomach weakened—the appetite gone, and all the world appears gloomy—pour some fresh oil into your lamp, in the shape of

PLANTATION BITTERS,

A few glasses of which will make the flame of life again burn brightly, and illuminate a once wretched existence. For ladies it is an elegant and gentle stimulant, exactly such as they require. It has become a familiar necessity. Sold by all dealers throughout the world.

THE CELEBRATION.—The celebration in this city passed off very well so far as the Committee of Arrangements and officers of the day had to do with it. The committee had invited everybody and the rest of mankind and had made a programme comprehensive enough for all of them, but the mass of the people seemed to take less than the ordinary interest in the celebration. The procession, instead of being a mile or two long, embracing all the societies, clubs, organizations trades etc, of the city, as the committee desired and as they labored hard to have it, was but four or five blocks in length, with only a part of the City Council, only part of the Fire Department, only one Base Ball club, only four or five representatives of trades and business, and a beggarly account of citizens in carriages. These, of course, did not constitute the whole of the procession, but in the respects named, it was decidedly a fractional affair. The fact cannot be disguised that the procession was a failure as to numbers but it was no fault of the committee for they had done everything to make it a success except to take the people by the collars and drag them into the ranks and the most exacting man in the world could hardly have set that down as any part of their duty. Even on the sidewalks, the crowd was not so large as we have seen in many a smaller town, which may be partly accounted for by the extreme heat of the day. There were very few Portland ladies on the street at any time either on foot or in carriages and it is safe to say that over one half of all who followed the procession, were from the country. There were several features of the procession that were very creditable to the managers.

The Liberty Car was a splendid thing. It was an immense canopy drawn by six horses, and beautifully ornamented with flags and streamers. Within were thirty seven little girls bearing banners imprinted with the names of the several States. Dressed uniformly in white each little head wreathed with white flowers and each little face wreathed with happy and excited smiles the occupants of the carriage constituted as lovely a group as it is possible to imagine. The next most interesting feature of the procession was the representatives of trades and occupations. These were but few however, where there should have been a hundred. Mr J F Jones of the Coffee and Spice Works on First street had a wagon fitted up with a driving wheel attachment by which the machinery for grinding was put in motion—apparently driven by a small steam engine—and as the procession moved, Mr Jones and an assistant appeared grinding coffee, weighing it out in pound parcels and putting it up, exactly as we find it on the shelves of dealers. This attracted a good deal of attention and we heard frequent compliments paid the enterprising tradesman. Mr Meussdorffer, the hatter, was represented by a huge tin hat perched on the top of a staff about ten or twelve feet high, drawn on a truck. Around the outside of the vehicle was a canvas painted with "Meussdorffer's Hat Factory." A hatter or two rode inside and plied the tools of the trade. It was observed that the driver started in the morning with rather a "shocking bad hat," but came out at the close with a very shining tile of the most fashionable pretensions—the transformation being attributable as we suppose to the goings on in the traveling shop. Burman Bros had a truck, with a pole supporting a lay figure frame dressed in a suit of Burman's best, merchant tailor suits. The truck was shrouded round with canvas bearing appropriate inscriptions. Mr. C H. Myers, plumber and gas fitter, drove an express wagon, loaded with pumps, gas and water pipes with fixtures etc. Mason & Co, brewers, had a wagon loaded with casks of Mason's ale, lager beer etc. Manhattan Market was represented by a butcher's cart with fatted animals. These were all the representatives of trades. The several wagons were profusely decorated with flags and other insignia.

The grounds selected for the exercises of the day though the best to be had, were unfavorable, being exposed to the full blaze and heat of the sun. In consequence of this, only a few, comparatively, made any pretense of listening to the reading or the oration. A great many people went to the grounds, and finding the situation so uncomfortable returned to the shady sides of the streets or retired to their houses.

The salutes at morning, noon and evening were fired as advertised in the programme, from the opposite side of the river.

The fireworks in the evening were exhibited from the north side of the open blocks in the rear of the Central school house, and constituted the most successful and interesting feature of the celebration. Long before the hour for the first signal rocket an almost constant procession of people poured up the streets leading to the grounds and when, at last, the exhibition began, there was probably not less than six or seven thousand people—some put the numbers 10,000—scattered all over the rising ground south and west of the spot where the pieces appeared. It seemed almost wonderful whence so vast a crowd could have sprung so suddenly. No such [illegible] had been visible at any time during the day. It was as though every human being in the city and all the surrounding country, had been suddenly taken with one idea and had followed it to this spot. While the exhibition continued, the Mechanics, the Aurora, and the Oregon City band played alternately from different points in the [illegible]. The fireworks were a credit to the [illegible]. Several of the pieces were exceedingly beautiful, but the chief among them was the "Temple of Liberty"—a very large and brilliant piece. It has been already described in this paper. The firing of this was the closing piece of the programme, and the signal that the [illegible] was ended.

Very fortunately, there was not an accident of any moment during the day. There were a few cases of being slightly burned by fire-crackers, but nobody seemed to mind that much. In the evening, there were several cases of "lost child," in the crowd, but we learned of none that resulted fatally. The staging broke down and let quite a number of people to the ground, but luckily nobody received any more serious injury than a slight bruise or scratch.

OREGON CITY ITEMS.—We clip the following items from the Enterprise of the 4th: Hon. Wm. C. Johnson has been lying quite ill in this city for two weeks past, but we [illegible] says the Unionist, in announcing that he [illegible] at this time, and is expected soon to regain his usual health .....Captain Pease has sent to San Francisco for cast iron pipe, with which to complete the Oregon City Water Works .... One day last week a lad named Richard Roberts, lost one of his fingers accidentally, while employed at the woolen factory in this city .... Two notable marriages were solemnized last week by J. M. Bacon, Esq., of this city—the first on the 25th, was that of Charles Kahulipa, Kanaka, and Cilly Arsoolt, (half breed). The second on the 27th, being John [illegible] to Nancy, Clatchman..... Mr M M [illegible], of Lower Molalla Precinct, lost two valuable horses on Saturday night last under circumstances which lead to the suspicion that they were poisoned. His family were attending camp meeting at the time the [illegible] and the horses were at his farm, in the [illegible] .....A campmeeting which [illegible] nearly [illegible] at Rock Creek, in this county, was closed on [illegible]. We understand that quite an [illegible] was awakened, and that [illegible] the church. The weather was not favorable, yet the [illegible] was very large .....James [illegible], and Oliver Porter, of Silverton, were arrested on a charge of selling liquor near the Rock Creek camp ground, and [illegible] before Justice Owen for trial, on Monday the [illegible]. Cooper plead guilty, and was fined fifty dollars [illegible]. The case of Porter was postponed till Friday the 3d inst.

I. O. O. F.—The following are lists of the officers of the Odd Fellows' Lodges in this city and vicinity for the term beginning July 1st

A new Lodge is to be instituted at Scio, Linn county, on Thursday, the 9th inst

BONDS FILED.—During last week the following persons elected to office in this county, filed their bonds with the county clerk: F G. Hickling, Justice of the Peace in [illegible] Precinct, bond $1,000, sureties, John M. Breck and D W Williams. W T Morris, County Surveyor bond $5 000, sureties, Wm Church and Wm Beck. Richard Sanford, Justice of the Peace, Willamette Precinct; bond $1 000, sureties, Albert Sunderland and Benj Sunderland. A M Roberts Justice of the Peace, St. Johns Precinct, bond $1,000, sureties, Wm [illegible] and B O Severance. Joseph H. Wiley, Superintendent of Public Instruction, filed his oath of office.

STABBED BY A CHINAMAN.—A boy of about twelve years of age, son of Mr. J. B Price, was passing along the street yesterday, near the corner of Second and Washington, when as he passed a Chinese house he spat on the [illegible] of a Chinaman. The latter, suddenly enraged, started for the boy who ran. The Chinaman followed a few steps and then threw a knife, which stuck point first in the boy's back, inflicting a deep wound. He was taken to Dr. [illegible]'s office, the knife was taken out, and the [illegible] took him home in his carriage. The wound is probably not a very serious one. The Chinaman was immediately arrested and confined in the county jail.

[illegible] SLOUGH.—The people over on the Slough had a very good little celebration of their own, on the 4th. Mr. A. B. Richardson of this city delivered the oration, and afterwards a barbecue dinner was served. At the [illegible] of the exercises, Mr Richardson installed the officers elect of Columbia Lodge No 24, A. F & A M, [illegible] Scott, W M, Stansberry S W Files, J W; Sunderland Treasurer Hosford Secretary. We understand that everything passed off gloriously.

THE BALL AT ORO FINO.—The ball at Oro Fino Hall Friday night under the management of Professors Cardinell and McCann, was one of the most successful and [illegible] affairs of the kind which has occurred in this city [illegible] while. There were about one hundred and [illegible] couple in attendance, though a greater number of tickets were sold. The dance continued till day[illegible] of the 4th, not more than half the party having left [illegible] final dance.

OREGON PRODUCTS IN SAN FRANCISCO.—The latest papers [illegible] that Oregon rough boards sell at $20 per thousand feet; dressed, do, at $35. Oregon dried apples, 7 cents per lb; Oregon salmon, $3 50 for half bbls, and $5 for [illegible]. [illegible] pig iron $40 per ton. Oregon eggs 28 and 30 cents per dozen. It is said that trade from San Francisco to Oregon and the Northern coast was never so active as now.

BOY FOUND.—On the evening of the 4th, a little boy aged about four years, was found after the arrival of one of the boats. All the account he can give of himself is that his name is Jimmy, and he came to town in a boat, had fallen asleep and was lost from his parents. For [illegible] call on Mr Thwing No 88 Front street.

CONTESTED ELECTIONS.—The contested election cases at [illegible] City came on for hearing to day.

OREGON CITY SEMINARY.—The report of Mr S D Pope the Principal of the Oregon City Seminary, for the term ending June 20th shows that the Primary Department had 64 pupils with an average attendance of 45 in the Intermediate Department, 66 on the roll, with an average attendance of 45; Higher Department, on the roll 45 with an average attendance of 35

CLACKAMAS vs. WASHINGTONS.—The return game between these two clubs was played at Vancouver, on Saturday resulting in a victory for the Washingtons by seventeen runs. It is now an even thing between the two clubs each having [illegible]. The next and deciding game will, we learn be played here or at the White House.

PORTLAND LIBRARY.—The following new books have just been added to the Portland Library: Andreas Hofer by Muhlbach. Frederick the Great and his Family by Muhlbach. [illegible] by Shirley Brooks. On [illegible] by [illegible]. Wind and Whirlwind by White. Waldemar Krone's Youth by Ewald

GROUND IN THE ROAD.—Mr J F Jones has presented us with some of the veritable coffee ground during the moving of the procession on the 4th. We shall try it [illegible], and if as good as Jones' customers represent why, Jones gets our coffee custom from this on.

[illegible].—This organization turned out Saturday afternoon in rather small force but in [illegible] costumes. They marched [illegible] through all the principal streets, [illegible]. The [illegible] of [illegible] has increased in numbers since last year

FAST DRIVING.—A couple [illegible] who were a little salubrious were arrested on Front street yesterday for fast driving. [illegible] assisted at the arrest. [illegible] two other parties deserved arrest for the same offence.

THE TEMPERANCE CELEBRATION.—The temperance people held a good time on the 4th at East Portland Park—basket lunch, oration by Mr. [illegible] Caples, songs and short addresses. About three hundred people participated.

THE PARTY AT NO. 5.—We learn that No. 5's boys with their invited guests had a very nice party Friday evening. [illegible] and then chased the [illegible] for some time after.

CLAIMS.—All parties having claims against the Committees of the celebration, should present them on or before this evening

CHANGE OF ADMINISTRATION.—The county officers newly elected will step into the shoes of the old ones to-day

ACCIDENT.—Mr J Gounsky fell out of a buggy last night and had one of his ribs broken

TO SAIL.—The steamship Pacific will sail for San Francisco this evening

OFFICE AND RESIDENCE—Southwest corner Front and Yamhill Streets, opposite E J Northrup & Co s Hardware Store
I am now making, amongst numerous other styles of ARTIFICIAL TEETH the improved Vulcanite Plates of Dr G W Cool's Patent, patented Dec 6 1867, the improvement of which consists in lining the entire concave surface with fine gold. It not only makes the plate double as strong and cleanlier than the common Vulcanite Plate. It also can by it be made considerably thinner and lighter whereas the price is but little above that for common plates. Call and see specimens

HAS CONSTANTLY ON HAND GROUND AND ROASTED COFFEE GREEN COFFEE of the best qualities. CREAM OF TARTAR and SPICES of all sorts
The undersigned who has always enjoyed public confidence for the excellent quality of his Coffee neglects nothing to justify the good name acquired by his productions, the sale of which daily increases. The acknowledged superiority of his merchandise which commands here and in the markets of the interior a relatively higher price excites the cupidity of some manufacturers and every day he sees increasing the number of those who by counterfeit or imitation of his mark, seek to deceive the public palming upon them their inferior productions for the genuine G VENARD CHARTRES COFFEE. This fraud can deceive nobody after a trial, but only adds to the favorable opinion of the consumers, the very flattering though unwilling testimony of the counterfeiters. Nevertheless, buyers should be forewarned and placed on their guard against this practice

HOSTETTER'S
CELEBRATED STOMACH BITTERS!
A Pure and Powerful Tonic,
Corrective and Alterative, of wonderful efficacy in Diseases of the STOMACH, LIVER AND BOWELS.
PROTECTIVE PROPERTIES
Prevents Fever and Ague and Bilious Remittent Fevers; Fortifies the System against Miasma and the evil effects of unwholesome water; Invigorates the organs of digestion and the bowels;
Steadies the Nerves and tends to Prolong Life.
REMEDIAL PROPERTIES.
Cures Dyspepsia, Liver Complaint, Sick and Nervous Headache, General Debility, Nervousness, Depression of Spirits, Constipation, Colic, Intermittent Fevers, Sea Sickness, Cramps and Spasms and all Complaints of either sex arising from Bodily Weakness, whether inherent in the system or PRODUCED BY SPECIAL CAUSES.
NOTHING THAT IS NOT WHOLESOME, GENIAL, and restorative in its nature, enters into the composition of HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS. This popular preparation contains no mineral of any kind; no deadly botanical element; no fiery excitant, but is a combination of the extracts of rare balsamic herbs and plants, with the purest and mildest of all diffusive stimulants
The weak stomach is rapidly invigorated, and the appetite restored by this Tonic, and hence it works wonders in cases of Dyspepsia, and in less confirmed forms of Indigestion. Acting as a gentle and painless aperient, as well as upon the liver, it also invariably relieves the Constipation superinduced by irregular action of the digestive and secretive organs
Persons of feeble habit, liable to Nervous Attacks, Lowness of Spirits, and Fits of Languor, find prompt and permanent relief from the Bitters. The testimony on this point is conclusive, and from both sexes.
As a Genuine Tonic, HOSTETTER'S BITTERS produce effects which must be experienced or witnessed before they can be fully appreciated. In cases of Constitutional Weakness, Premature Decay and Debility and Decrepitude arising from old age it exercises the electric influence. In the convalescent stages of all diseases it operates as a delightful invigorant. When the powers of nature are relaxed, it operates to re-enforce and re-establish them
Last but not least it is the only safe stimulant, being manufactured from sound and innocuous materials, and entirely free from the acid elements present more or less in all the ordinary tonics and stomachics of the day.

Plant Food

Plants like animals must have food in order to exist and since they have not the power of locomotion it is necessary that their food should be placed within their reach. They feed both by their roots and leaves, the moving air bringing food suitable for them to the leaves, and the soil supplying water as a vehicle for inorganic matter absorbed by the roots. If we know the general composition of plants (for they are all made up of the same materials in variable proportions and combinations) we shall understand more readily what they necessarily require for their growth.

The elementary ingredients of all plants are carbon, hydrogen, oxygen, nitrogen, phosphorus, sulphur, potassium, sodium, calcium, magnesium, silicon, iron, manganese, and a little chlorine. The elements are presented by nature always in combinations and never in an elementary state. Carbon is furnished in two states, namely as carbonic acid gas and soluble organic matters of the soil. The atmosphere containing four ten thousandths of its weight of carbonic acid gas, is the chief reservoir of supply, but there is much of this gas disengaged from the vegetable matters decaying in the soil and from carbonate of lime decomposed by vegetable or mineral acids and this is more immediately available to the vegetation on the soil where the gas is so produced.

Carbonic acid gas is chiefly if not wholly absorbed by the foliage of plants and by the influence of the sun's rays it is there decomposed, its oxygen being set free and exhaled, while its carbon is appropriated by the plant. The second way in which carbon is introduced is in the state of soluble organic matters absorbed by the spongioles of the rootlets, and in that state is carried into the circulation, its elements being appropriated and assimilated. Hydrogen and oxygen are supplied abundantly by water, which consists of one proportion by weight of hydrogen and eight of oxygen. Nitrogen can be furnished only by absorption through the spongioles of the rootlets, and must be derived wholly from the soil in the state of amoniacal compounds and nitrates of the alkalies. Phosphorus and sulphur are always supplied in the forms of sulphates. Potassium and sodium are presented in the state of salts of potash and soda—so calcium is always found as as a salt of its oxide, lime. Magnesium as magnesia enters very minute proportions into plants, and seems to act as a substitute for lime when that substance is wanting in the soil in adequate proportions or in a proper state for absorption. Silicon exists as silex and is generally introduced as a soluble silicate of soda or potash and is afterwards eliminated as silica in the bark or external envelope or epidermis of vegetable stems and especially in the grasses. Iron and magnesia occur in such small proportions in vegetable structures as to lead to some doubt as to their being essential or accidental ingredients, but since they are at every constituents of animal blood it would seem that they ought to be essential to the composition of vegetable substances consumed as food by animals. Chlorine exists in plants combined with sodium chiefly as salt. On reviewing our list of the essential ingredients of plants we find that some of them exist in exceeding abundance in the natural soils while others are in very small proportions, and some of them comparatively evanescent. Phosphates in a soluble form are very rare in the natural soil, and when we remove the crops we rapidly exhaust the soil of its small store of this indispensible ingredient of all seeds and fruits. Compensation must therefore be made to the robbed soil. Ammoniacal salts are very soluble in water, and are volatile under the heat of the hot sun and cannot long remain in the soil, therefore the ammoniacal fertilizer must be supplied annually. Nitrates are also very soluble in water and are liable to be washed away, hence they should be applied in small quantities each season.

Art must improve upon nature by following her laws, keeping in view the principles involved and the conditions of the case. In nature the crops grow and die on the soil, and nothing is removed, but man takes away the produce of the field, and must therefore make compensation for those rare and valuable ingredients which the crop has taken from the soil, and without which fertility would lase. Phosphates, nitrogenous matters and the alkalies, are those rare and essential materials that must, in some form, be restored to the soil from which we have removed a succession of crops, if we desire permanent fertility.

Stealing Political Phrases

It is an interesting fact, which it may amuse our readers to notice during the coming campaign, that wherever a measure or an action is enthusiastically disapproved by the editors of either party, the editors of the opposite party immediately inform their readers that their enemies are "setting up a howl."

This phrase is kept in type in the composing rooms of most political newspapers. Many other phrases which are used very frequently during a political campaign are also kept in type. When a type setter comes across one of them he calls for it, and the utility boy of the office carries it to him. He is thus saved the trouble and time required to set it anew.

Those who are not familiar with the inside of a newspaper office are generally interested in even the slightest revelations of what is going on in them. We do not care to name the paper, as that would be a breach of professional courtesy; but we are willing to give the reader the benefit of the following general conversation which we heard day before yesterday afternoon in the office of the "New York ——." We give it as well as we can remember it.

Every type-setter in an office has his number, and is known by that number to the foreman.

Number Eight—"Hullabuloo—"

Boy—Out.

Foreman—J[illegible] after "the noodles" on the further [illegible] galley.

Number Seventeen—I took the last one—three in this editorial.

N[illegible] "Skulk" (Boy carries it to him)—Now bring me two "swindles" and a "claptrap."

The utility boy is then kept on the run as follows:

"Frenzied "

"Bottled-up "

"Scoundrel-two of them—and three double-dyed's."

"Two dodges "

"Coward "

"Minion "

"Hypocrite "

"Vagabond,"

"Political charlatan—and a liar,—"

Boy—Out of "liars."

Foreman—"Had seven "liars" set up this morning—"

Enter Editor-in-chief's boy.

The New York Times says, "the late debates on the Irish Church question have been exceedingly stupid, but in both Houses the Liberals seem to have the best of it. A point was brought out during one of the discussions that very decidedly strengthened the Dissenters. It was stated by the O'Donoghue, leader of the Irish Catholics in Parliament, that the hostility of the Irish was not to the doctrines of the Anglican Church, but to its undue ascendancy, hence this feeling was unknown toward the Irish Protestant Dissenters. And Sir P. O'Brien affirmed also that to remove Protestant Church ascendancy would be to destroy the chief cause of disagreement in Ireland. Indeed it is rather aggravating for Irishmen to think of an income of from $3 500 000 paid annually in gold to sustain an establishment for the benefit of the small minority of the people. This is the representative interest of a capital of say sixty or seventy millions of dollars, the former patrimony of a national church, now not only changed from its original purpose but really denationalized. The Liberals have strong ground to stand on.

The Chicago Post states that the printers in that city are about to set the Colfax ball a-rolling, by organizing a Printers Colfax Club, with affiliated societies in every town in the country in which half a dozen printers can be found. Mr Colfax is the first member of the craft who has ever been nominated for either of the two highest offices in the people's gift, and the craftsmen desire to signalize the event by such hearty aid as they can render for his triumphant success.

AFRICAN WOMEN.—M. Chaillu, in his work on the gorilla, thus writes of the African women:

"I shall never forget the kindness of those women to me while I was sick. Poor souls! they are sadly abused by their task masters. They are the merest slaves. They have to do all the drudgery. They receive blows and ill usage. And yet, at the sight of suffering their hearts soften just as woman's hearts soften in our more civilized lands. No sooner had sickness attacked me than these kind souls came to nurse and take care of me. They sat by me, they fanned me, they brought me mats for my bed, they bathed my burning head with cool water, they got me refreshing fruits from the woods. At length when I awoke from a feverish dream I could hear their voices as they sat around in the darkness pitying me and contriving ways to cure me. When I think of these things I cannot help thanking God for them, that wherever I have gone, he has made human hearts tender and kind to me, that even under the black skin of the benighted and savage African He has implanted something of his own compassionate love."

A California letter to an Eastern paper has the following: I entered a Frontier shop to have a little job done, and said to the shopkeeper as a necessary preliminary, "You speak English?" His answer, delivered promptly and without hesitation, was, "Sh's my certainment you bet!" There were three languages all in one sentence, and the good man straightened himself up with a proud satisfaction at the thought that he could speak English like a native. He was an Italian I believe.

The New York Citizen, Miles O'Reilly's paper, says:

Grant and Colfax make an excellent ticket. The wonderful military success of the one, and the great political ability of the other cannot be written down or belittled by newspaper editors and the attempt to do so is a tolly only worthy of the late management of the Democratic party.

SOOTHING AND BRACING.—There is no preparation in existence which has such a soothing effect in cases of nervous excitement as

DR. HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS.

Although the fame of this renowned invigorant rests mainly on its astonishing cures of Dyspepsia, Liver Complaint and intestinal disorders, it is equally efficacious in nervous complaints. Thousands of ladies resort to it as a remedy for hysteria, fluttering of the heart, nervous headache, vertigo, general debility and all peculiar disturbances and derangements to which, as a sex, they are subject. It cheers and lightens the depressed mental powers as well as strengthens the body and its use is never followed by any unpleasant reaction. Sold by all Druggists and dealers everywhere.

THESE WHEELS, UNEQUALED AND UNRIVALED in the United States or the world, have been fully tested on this coast, many being in use at this date, driving all kinds of machinery, Saw Mills, Flour Mills, Quartz Mills, Woolen Factories, &c., &c.

CAUTION.

To all whom it may concern. I hereby give notice that the so-called "Shipley's Pacific Turbine Water Wheel" is a direct infringement and copy of the "James Leffel's American Double Turbine Water Wheel" and its manufacture and use is hereby prohibited. Any person or persons making, using, constructing or vending said Water Wheels make themselves liable to heavy damages and penalties. Parties interested will take notice, for I shall prosecute and infringements to the utmost extent of the law.

That all may know I mean what I say, and am not playing "bluff," I give the following extract from a legal opinion on this subject from one of the most eminent Patent Attorneys in the United States:

WASHINGTON, D. C., April 17, 1868.

"MR. A. MYERS—In accordance with your request we have examined the patents of Shipley on Water Wheels and are clearly of the opinion that they both infringe the Leffel's patents. In both of Shipley's Wheels he uses the upper and lower tiers of buckets precisely as Leffel does, and in this he clearly infringes. The fact that Shipley has applied another series of buckets in addition to those used by Leffel does not relieve him from the consequences of infringement at all. He has no right to use those two tiers of buckets whether alone or with a third or any other number of tiers added. It is a clear infringement. Respectfully yours, DODGE & MUNN."

I hereby give notice that I will prosecute every infringement on our Patents, whether it is the maker, user, buyer or seller. Every infringement, whether our claims are used in whole or in part, will be prosecuted.
A. MYERS.

PACIFIC TURBINE WATER WHEEL.

THESE WHEELS EXCEL ANY OTHER WHEEL in use, and are no infringement on the Leffel American Turbine, but excel it in every particular.

CAUTION.

To all whom it may concern.—One A. Myers is publishing and circulating a statement that my wheel is an infringement on the Leffel wheel and he will "prosecute said infringement to the utmost extent of the law." His statements are not worth a denial. His game is "Bluff," which if he would only take the case to Court, would soon be played out. Don't believe him!

I would be glad to get a case into the United States Court and get a decision. That would forever stop the mouth of Myers and his misrepresentations. The legal opinions of more reputable lawyers than Dodge & Munn and A. Myers have pronounced my patents no infringement on the American Turbine. H. W. SHIPLEY.

Beware of the San Francisco quack and [illegible] who with bogus sworn to [illegible] advertise [illegible] some of the self styled doctors whose names [illegible] in the daily and weekly newspapers of San Francisco and other places are [illegible] to work at their trades. Some are tinsmiths, shoemakers, newspaper carriers, intelligence office keepers, etc. Look over the San Francisco Directory and you will not find their Medical Institutes, but you will find their former occupations in it. Look at the Directory for 1862 and 1863. The only way to avoid imposition is to make enquiry—it will cost you nothing and may save you many regrets, for as advertising physicians, in eight cases out of ten are bogus, there is no safety in trusting any of them until you know who and what they are. Dr. Gibbon does not deceive people by exhibiting bogus titles, certificates, pretended patient's letters, etc. Dr. Gibbon will satisfy persons who may call at his office of his ability to treat diseases that he proposes to cure.

INSTITUTE.

CONSULTATION, IN ALL CASES, IS FREE.

CURES GUARANTEED, OR NO PAY REQUIRED.

IN ALL CASES WHERE CONFIDENCE IS REQUIRED THE UTMOST SECRESY MAINTAINED.

The above rules, established by Dr. J. C. Young in 1850, and which have done so much to secure the reputation of this Institute, are still adhered to, affording those in need of medical aid, the certainty of cure and the utmost confidence.

There is nothing of so great importance to the sick as to know where to find a physician whose skill and [illegible] give assurance of proper and delicate treatment. The Doctor would respectfully call the attention of those of [illegible] who are suffering or in [illegible] to the invariable success [illegible] has marked the career of the Institute in the seventeen years of its existence.

It is unnecessary in this connection to enumerate all the complaints treated at the Institute, but the Doctor feels it his duty to call especial attention to that terrible scourge, SEMINAL WEAKNESS, That is sapping with its insidiousness the very life of its victims; in the treatment and cure of which the Institute has earned so enviable a reputation.

READ! READ

I am aware that by dwelling upon a subject as the decay of manly vigor the [illegible] the vital principle of life, the ignorant may [illegible] tive, but the desire to point out to those who [illegible] guish and decay the true cause of their [illegible] great an incentive to be forced into [illegible] tended the terrible disease of S[illegible] one but the practical specialist who [illegible] treatment can tell but its [illegible] the most inexperienced by noting the [illegible] toms, Weakness of the back and [illegible] feelings, loss of muscular power, [illegible] cold feet or hands, accompanied by [illegible] of consumption, alert [illegible] aversion to society; confusion of the [illegible] nightly emissions, colorless, slight [illegible] least excitement [illegible] palpitation [illegible] regular appetite variable temper, etc.

YOUNG MAN, if you experience any of the symptoms enumerated above, [illegible] present is the golden moment in which [illegible] health and happiness. You may feel [illegible] you have ever practiced the vice of [illegible] [illegible] you have the [illegible] of [illegible] system, and their undermining [illegible] or later, dash the fair edifice of your [illegible] ground, leaving you a helpless, abject [illegible] — that declares itself at once. [illegible] for while the [illegible] affection of the Heart, Lungs, [illegible] tions, he sinks into a general debility [illegible] to the list of the victims of the terrible [illegible] Weakness.

See in the best form and [illegible] victim of the fascinating vice! [illegible] destructive complaint in the hollow [illegible]

Drowsiness is one of the primary [illegible] first it is easily shaken off, but it [illegible] great disinclination to pursue his [illegible] mind becomes apprehensive, and [illegible] days of depression.

It is the nature of the [illegible] changes that leave the poor victim but [illegible] covery. In a single instant it may [illegible] hopes and blast your honest [illegible]

Marriage is sought by a natural [illegible] lief. This is an error of the first [illegible] tem, unprepared for the exigencies of [illegible] denly fails, and he finds himself [illegible] from which there is but the slight [illegible] Or if the marriage should result in [illegible] ny, distorted, decrepid, and [illegible] ble to both sexes, whether [illegible] times of life.

Do not delay if you feel any of the [illegible] rible complaint, or if your acts have been [illegible] to them, but by instant application [illegible] only hope of health and happiness. The [illegible] mercury or other deleterious drugs [illegible] time always guaranteed, and full and [illegible] stored.

The afflicted are assured of every [illegible]

During the seventeen years since the [illegible] the Institute, the number of cases of V[illegible] been treated show a record [illegible] by any [illegible] in the world and the success that has [illegible] the course of treatment.

Without Mercury or other Deleterious Drugs,

Shows conclusively the use of them to be not called for but actually dangerous, for it is a [illegible] ertal fabled medical principle that those [illegible] by entering the blood, ruin the [illegible] life.

The Doctor effects a cure in [illegible] and finds no difficulty in curing those of long [illegible] without submitting the patient to such [illegible] draw upon him the slightest suspicion, or [illegible] neglect his business whether in-doors or [illegible] diet need not be changed. Cures always [illegible] no pay required.

IMPORTANT TO F[illegible]

When a female is in trouble or afflicted with [illegible] requires medical or surgical assistance, the inquiry [illegible] be, Where is there a physician competent [illegible] relief and whose respectable standing [illegible] commend him to the confidence of the co[illegible] Doctor understanding how imperatively [illegible] requirements are, feels called upon to [illegible] calling the attention of the afflicted to the fact that he [illegible] been a Professor of Obstetrics and Female [illegible] ty years, and is fully qualified to [illegible] both medically and surgically, not in a [illegible] but in as thorough a manner as years of study and [illegible] —both in hospitals and private families—can make [illegible] them from the hands of the unqualified [illegible] designing. Thereafter families can rely upon [illegible] a father. All in affliction can find in him [illegible] and sympathize with and befriend them in [illegible] whose secrecy the utmost confidence can be [illegible] consultation by letter or otherwise, free. Cures [illegible] teed in all weakness and trouble incident [illegible] Private apartments are provided, when [illegible] be had all the advantages of unremitted att[illegible] Doctor, and the most skillful and [illegible].

TO CORRESPONDENTS.—Persons, either male or [illegible] residing in the interior are often deterred from [illegible] the Doctor because they cannot spare the time, nor [illegible] the expense of a visit to the city. To such he [illegible] that a plain statement of the symptoms and [illegible] bearing upon the complaint will enable him to [illegible] for them so that they can be cured at home. [illegible] any false delicacy about writing, no [illegible] nature of their complaint, as the comm[illegible] seen by no one except the Doctor and will be [illegible] the utmost confidence and either be returned or [illegible]
